Julie Lipscomb to Jay Atkinson

WOODSIDE, CALIFORNIA

Jhey first met in San Diego through Julie's sister and her fiancé. With Jay living in Hong Kong and Julie in San Diego, a commute was unavoidable. However, with a shared love of travel, they took the opportunity to meet in various ports of call. In fact, it was during a romantic rendezvous in Sydney, Australia, that Jay proposed...the first time. The answer was a resounding yes, of course, but the question begged to be asked a second time when he presented Julie with a gorgeous ring in the middle of New York's Grand Central Station a month later. Travel was a logical theme for their nuptial celebration, and easily carried out through food stations featuring international cuisine and table cards named for the many places they'd traveled together. With a color palette of rich reds, golds, oranges and greens, their decor was enhanced with pumpkins, squash and lush florals.
