Vintage

2019

The 2019 vintage will go down as a classic year in the Santa Cruz Mountains. Some unsettled weather in the spring resulted in poor flowering, lower yields in some blocks. The summer was warm, but not oppressively so- the lack of extreme heat events was a welcome change. Harvest began in mid September, finishing up in mid to late October – relatively late compared to the recent string of early harvests. The wines are concentrated with a fine balance of structure and fruit intensity. Site expression seems amplified; low yields and moderate temperatures often lead to some of our most singular and terroir driven wines. The wines drink surprisingly well in their youth and have all the components for a long life ahead. The only downside to the year are yields; the wines will be sought after and rare.

Wines

2019 Langley Hill Vineyard Chardonnay (Two Bottles)

Langley Hill is our largest plot of Estate Chardonnay. It occupies a steep hillside, offering numerous exposures and soil depths. This complex arrangement leads to multiple picks often spread over weeks, rather than days. Langley Hill's is often both the first and last of our Chardonnays to be picked. The vineyard's fractured sandstone over Lambert shale yields Chardonnay that is steely and structured with persistent citrus and mineral flavors.

Tasting Note: Opens with aromas of citrus blossoms and nectarines with layered stone and mineral tones to finish.

2019 Albutom Vineyard Chardonnay (One Bottle)

The Albutom Vineyard is our smallest block of Chardonnay and is a distinct expression of the fractured shale upon which it was grown. It seems to epitomize all that we love about the Chardonnay we grow in the mountains. Minerals, rocks, subtle fruit, bright acidity, etc.. This vineyard always brings these various components together in a finally knit Chardonnay of great elegance and subtle power. Very thin, rocky soils and a cool eastern exposure lead to precise wines with great potential for age.

Tasting Note: Albutom is a rich, concentrated Chardonnay that boasts apricots, lemon peel, minerality, and white tea with balanced acidity. There are only two-barrels produced of this stunning Chardonnay.
